

Position Description: Vice President of CA CACE

The Vice President of California CACE (Council of Architectural Component Executives) within the AIA California Executive Committee serves as a crucial liaison between the state organization and local chapters. This role involves active participation in shaping policies and initiatives that impact architectural practice across California.

- Policy Development: Contribute to the development and refinement of policies that address the needs and concerns of local chapters, ensuring they are well-represented at the state level.
- Advocacy: Advocate for the interests of local chapters within the Executive Committee, ensuring their perspectives are considered in state-level decisions; identify opportunities for CA CACE to engage with CRC.
- Strategic Planning: Participate in strategic planning sessions to align the objectives of AIA California with the evolving needs of local chapters and the architectural profession.
- Support and Resources: Provide support and resources to local chapters, assisting them in achieving their goals and addressing challenges they may face.
- Communication and Engagement: Responsible for checking in with CA CACE members on their communicating with chapter members regarding CA Board actions, decisions and two-way dialogue with CRC.
